Letter of Reference for Balmeeki Bandyopadhyay

To whom it may concern:

In the Fall semester of 1999 the applicant took my class “Mathematical Methods in Physics”, a first year graduate course primarily designed for incoming graduate students in Physics. Micky was a very attentive and serious student. Being the only engineering student in my class, his background made it necessary for him to put more work in than the other students. Therefore, my overall personal judgement of him is better than the final grade (B+) would make it seem. His work was consistent and thorough, and his performance was quite satisfactory. He works well both in groups and by himself. His personality is very pleasant.

I fully support his decision to return to graduate school after having gained several years of work experience. I would expect that he is definitely capable of sound graduate work and I expect him to obtain a good professional doctoral degree.
